26th Annual Race for the Roses

We weren't going to do much and then the Commodore talked to me.....

Well you know how it goes. When the Commodore speaks I am the sucker :)

Anyway, I promised to be in charge of the food and then started talking to some of the ladies who usually are involved with organizing the events around the Race for the Roses. Before we knew it we had a meeting planned and the event has a life of its own. Debbie Belger, Ellen Hunt, Karen Kriegel, Julie Connerly, Anne Geisel, Shelia Jackson and your's truly put the whole event together in an hour. This does not include the Fleet's part of the NOR etc. Just the party! Roses are ordered, tank tops are ordered, food for Saturday is delegated, publicity is taken care of, letter to ask for donations is done and all the lists are made. The Committee Members of previous Race for the Roses regattas have kept records that make putting the event together a snap. Now we just need to have a list of volunteers. So sign up for clean up, donations of food, money or gifts and any other task that comes with the planning. Personally I won't be sailing anymore after my last Race for the Roses adventure. It does however give me the chance to play hostess together with Shelia on PBYC's behalf.

On Friday Night we're planning the Skippers' Meeting with some donated appetizers.

Saturday.....we sail! May the weather Gods be with us!

Saturday evening the menu is BBQ with side dishes for a small donation of $5.00. Followed by Trophies and a raffle of very cool donated gift items.

Afterwards, we all drink rum and brag about our accomplishments!

Here's PBYC's Sunday afternoon paddleboard and kayakers who braved the squalls to venture out to dirty bird island Sunday on July 21. New coordinates placed dirty bird island at Dunbar's beach for those who didn't want to battle upwind too far to get back home--which made those of us who weren't Dunbars, beat it back towards PBYC just before the skies opened up....eeckkk)

Rear Commodore's Report

Thanks to everyone for coming out to the first-ever, Low Country Shrimp Boil on July 20. I am pleased that we had a good turnout. I also appreciate all of the help I received for this event. Thanks to Mark and RZ for doing all the cooking, to Genella and Mark for setting up the dining room, and to Becky for serving up the food. You know it was a lot of work, but I am a foodie and I love doing this sort of entertaining. I hope we will have similar events in the near future. The next event will be a Psychedelic 60's event with everyone dressing up in their funkier 60's garb. Will have to dig out my bellbottom jeans and love beads...sure I have them somewhere. Prize for the hippest outfit!! Look for e-mail blast on this event--hopefully, in September. As for the first paddleboard event on July 21, the very windy weather kept most people away, however, there were a few brave souls who did paddleboard or kayak. Hopefully, we can have Sunday afternoons of paddleboarding, kayaks, lasers and whatever floats for anyone who is interested. Meet on bird island at 1:00. Whoever wants to join in, just be there. YOLO!!

Operational Procedures

Earlier this year I mentioned that your 2013 Board of Directors assembled some operational procedures. These are not by-laws. They are guidelines to help transition from one year to the next. Several of you have mentioned you would like a refresher so they appear in the following paragraphs. Hope you find this informative.

Anne Geisel
PBYC Commodore 2013

COMMODORE HANDBOOK OF OPERATIONAL PROCEDURES

Current 2013

1. Budgets

Club Budget : duty of Commodore
Bar Budget: Vice Commodore
Fleet Budget: Fleet Captain
Rear Budget: Rear Commodore
Budgets must be approved and posted (online and bulletin board) by January 1st. Prior preparation is suggested by Sept or Oct. Incoming and outgoing boards attend the December board meeting for finalization. Approved budgets may be adjusted with board approval. Expenditures over approved budgets will not be reimbursed unless the treasurer makes a decision to do so.

2. Reimbursements

Reimbursements requests need approval from the Cost-center chairperson (Commodore, Vice, Fleet, Rear) before being turned in to the treasurer.

3. Ready cash Rule of Thumb

Need $20,000 in cash accounts January 1st to last until dues renewal. Surplus money may be deposited to the Building Fund Jan 1st at the recommendation of the treasurer and board.

4. Commodore Folder

Keep a three ring binder with by-laws, Spreader issues, minutes, P&Ls, cash flow reports, GYA schedule, Articles of Incorporation, Lease Agreement and handbook of Operational Procedures.

5. Send out Request for Agenda Items one week prior to Board and General Membership meetings.

6. Update Signature Cards

Update at January meeting. Coastal Bank and Trust
Current 1/1/2013.

7. As a rule , Regattas and Events should plan to break even or better.

8. Sales tax.

When setting costs, make note that fees, dues, etc. are subject to sales tax (approx. 12%).

9. Secretary is to post Minutes of Board and GM meetings online when approved.

10. Submit all info to GYA in December as requested for their Handbook.
